

SAYS THE SYSTEM MUST BE ELASTIC

THE VIEWS OF A CHICAGO MAN.

F. W. Gookin's Notion of an Ideal Currency—Answering the Views of the Monetary Commission He Advocates a Gold Standard, Retirement of United States Notes.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—One of the replies to the monetary commission's interrogatories has been furnished by Frederick W. Gookin, cashier of the Northwestern National bank of this city.

Mr. Gookin's fundamental contention in speaking of the ideal currency system which should be adopted is that it should possess a basis which shall not be temporary like government bonds, that the note circulation should be so secure as to pass current everywhere without question, and to be nowhere at a discount even in the slightest degree. Immediate convertibility into gold and expansibility in response to the demands of trade are of course prime requisites. National bonds cannot be relied upon as a basis of currency, since the United States cannot reasonably be called upon to maintain a government debt as a basis for circulation, nor can any other securities than those which are national be used as such a basis. Moreover, there is no system of secured circulation which will admit of elasticity, the quality it present desired above all others. National bank notes at the present time are kept in circulation whether needed or not, because it is to no one's interest to present them for redemption. Inasmuch as they are payable only in legal-tender notes or silver dollars, those who desire gold would not think of presenting them for such redemption. This sluggishness in redemption will, however, not be the case when notes are retired from the field. Those who desire gold for export can, under such a system, obtain gold only by obtaining bank notes and presenting them for redemption.

Mr. Gookin, however, in advocating a system of "asset banking," has not neglected to discuss the security of the note holder. No bank, he thinks, with capital of less than $1,000,000 should be allowed to issue currency.

Mr. Gookin believes that banks whose capital has become impaired to the extent of 20 per cent should be required to make up the deficiency or to go into liquidation; that borrowers should be compelled to submit signed statements showing their assets and liabilities; that loans for a period longer than four months should be prohibited, and that loans to officers and directors should be restricted. A system of inspection much more rigid than that which now exists should, Mr. Gookin thinks, be put in force.

Mr. Gookin has very fully covered the question of redemption. He thinks that every bank should be compelled to provide for redeeming its notes in New York, Chicago, San Francisco, New Orleans, and in any other commercial centers which seem necessary. One of the most interesting points in Mr. Gookin's recommendations is that which deals with the retirement of United States notes. The legal-tender notes have become our monetary standard, and here Mr. Gookin finds the root of all the monetary difficulties of the past thirty-five years. If the notes cannot be retired they should, at least, he thinks, be deprived of their legal-tender quality. As a companion piece to the retirement of the greenbacks, Mr. Gookin recommends that silver dollars and silver certificates be considered and treated as subsidiary money.

Mr. Gookin thinks it very necessary that the gold standard be distinctly established by providing that all obligations of the United States shall be payable in gold and by defining the silver dollars as a representative coin only. Neither silver nor silver certificates should be legal tender for amounts in excess of $10, all bank notes, either now or in the future existing, to be redeemable in gold alone.

In general it may be said that Mr. Gookin regards the most dangerous element in the present monetary situation as the fact that United States notes are a legal tender, inasmuch as this throws the responsibility of furnishing gold for export upon the government, and he regards the prime requisite in a new monetary system to be provision for an absolutely elastic currency, and he has no doubt that the banks would furnish all the currency needed. Mr. Gookin rejects the reasoning of the so-called "quantity theory," believing that it is wholly unnecessary to maintain any definite amount of money in circulation.

Special Session Is Certain.
Chicago, Nov. 26.—Before he left the city Wednesday night Governor Tanner told some of his intimate friends who called to see him at the Great Northern hotel that he is going to call a special session of the legislature. He did not fix a date for issuing the call, nor did he specify the subjects of legislation he will incorporate in it, but Republican politicians are of the opinion that he will make both public within a few days.

Senior Canalejas Is Uneasy.
Havana, Nov. 26.—Senior Canalejas left Thursday for Pinar del Rio on his investigating tour of that province. According to reports published here Senior Sagasta is eagerly awaiting Canalejas' first letter with regard to the situation, with a view, possibly, to shaping the government policy in accordance with the information received.

REJECT JOLIET SCALE.

Coal Miners at Streator, Ill., Propose a Compromise.

Streator, Ill., Nov. 26.—The miners of Streator and vicinity held a convention behind closed doors Thursday to consider the scale formulated by the Joliet conference, and decided to reject the proposals of the Joliet scale committee. The miners are very reluctant to yield the gross weight demand, and as the Joliet scale recognizes existing screens they are opposed to it. The screens are the principal obstacle in the way of a settlement now. The miners give the impression that they might modify the price, but feel like insisting that the screens shall be abolished as a basis for weighing coal. A proposition is being suggested by some of the miners looking towards a settlement here on the basis of a uniform seven-eighths-inch screen, and one of the companies here is disposed to regard such a compromise with favor. The screens in use at present are about one and one-half inches.

INDIAN INQUIRY ORDERED.

Gov. Adams of Colorado Names a Commission—Outbreak Feared.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 26.—Gov. Adams has appointed Attorney D. C. Beaman of Denver, Charles E. Noble of Colorado Springs and Judge Joshua Walbridge of Steamboat Springs as a commission to investigate the recent Indian disturbances in Routt and Rio Blanco counties, his purpose being to determine whether any blame attaches to the game wardens for killing Indian hunters.

No news has been received at the headquarters of the department of the Colorado, United States army, or at the statehouse regarding the reported departure from the Utes' reservation in Utah of a party of Indians for the purpose taking revenge for the killing of their comrades. A letter from Craig, Colo., states that settlers are prepared for any move that may be made. It has all along been felt that the Indians might seek revenge.

Refuses to Stop Sealing.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 26.—A reply has been prepared by the dominion government and forwarded to Washington in respect to the negotiations which are now going on between both countries. It is understood that it is a refusal to stop pelagic sealing for a year, as the United States requested. The whole question depended upon this, and therefore it would appear that the negotiations are to fail in their object. However, there is a report that the Canadian government has proposed an alternative proposition for the consideration of the United States, which could be laid before congress at its next sitting and passed in time to deal with pelagic sealing and the questions of dispute next season.

To Control Coal Markets.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 26.—The Vanderbilt interests have a scheme on foot aiming at the control, through the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, of the soft coal markets of both the East and West. The Vanderbilts have bought nearly half a million acres of coal and timber land in West Virginia. A railroad will tap these coal lands, connecting them with the Chesapeake and Ohio, and through it with the East and West. It is also stated that the Vanderbilt interests have secured control of the Hocking Valley road and it will be extended to Huntington, W. Va.

FOOTBALL GAMES THANKSGIVING DAY

WISCONSIN WINS WESTERN CHAMPIONSHIP.

Michigan Is Defeated—Northwestern University Proves an Easy Mark for the Badger Team—Cornell Gives Pennsylvania a Scare—Other Contests on the Gridiron.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Wisconsin is the undisputed western foot ball champion for 1897. The badger team finished its season Thursday with an unbroken string of victories to its credit. It capped the climax by defeating and completely slaughtering Northwestern by a score of 22 to 0.

Wisconsin's goal never was in danger. At no time did the purple get beyond the cardinal fifteen-yard line. The play was in Northwestern territory during almost the entire game. If the pigskin happened to get into the Wisconsin end of the field Pat O'Dea promptly punted it back.

The splendid team work of the Badgers was the most noticeable feature of their play. The interference formed quickly and with remarkable precision. The close formation was Wisconsin's strongest play, and every member of the team was alert from the start.

PENNSY IS HARD HELD.

Cornell's Team Furnishes a Surprise to the Quaker.

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—Cornell played Pennsylvania to a standstill in the final game of the season on Franklin field Thursday. After one of the hardest games of the year, in which both sides played foot ball as best they knew how, Pennsylvania won by a score of 4 to 0.

In the first half neither team scored, Cornell having the advantage during the first twenty minutes play, with honors even the remaining time. In the second half, after once losing the ball on the one yard line after a fifty-yard steady advance, Pennsylvania forced the ball over for a touchdown. Minds failed at goal and the score was 4 to 0, where it remained until call of time put a stop to play.

CHICAGO IS VICTOR.

Captain Herschberger's Great Kicking Wins the Day.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Chicago university defeated Michigan at the Coliseum yesterday afternoon by a score of 21 to 12. Herschberger's kicking won the game. Three times did he send the pigskin over the Michigan crossbars for a clean goal from the field, scoring fifteen of the points credited to the wearers of the maroon.

Michigan was badly off in form, and her men were much the worse for wear. Not a man of the Chicago team was forced out of the game, while three of the Ann Arbor players retired. They also lacked the dash and precision of the Maroons. Costly fumbles at critical points disheartened them.

Depauw Team Fails to Score.

Greencastle, Ind., Nov. 26.—Depauw university football team was defeated by Indiana University Thursday by a score of 14 to 0. Indiana won the game by superior all-round work and by being the better mud players. The Depauw team disbanded without having had a touchdown or goal in a college championship game this season. They have played ball, but have been steadily outclassed.

HEAVY STORM RAGES THROUGH THE WEST

THE FIRST SEVERE BLASTS OF WINTER IN NEBRASKA.

Stock Men Fear Damages—Snowdrifts Piling Up Over the Pastures—Both Cattle and Sheep Imperiled—Railway Traffic Seriously Interfered With by the Blizzard.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 26.—A snowstorm of great severity swept over Nebraska Thursday night. The weather was mild all day, with a drizzling rain. Toward evening the mercury dropped to almost zero and a gale from the northwest swept the fine particles of snow in every direction.

Not a great quantity of snow fell, but what there was piled in huge drifts in the streets of the city, impeding all kinds of traffic.

Out in the state the situation is worse. In the extreme western part of the state a regular blizzard exists, and more damage is threatened to stock interests than at any time this winter. This is due to the fact that the grass is covered with a hard coating of ice, through which it will be quite difficult for cattle to break in order to secure food. On top of this is piled much snow. If the weather remains severe for several days heavy losses on the range necessarily will follow this kind of weather.

The storm covers the entire state. Railroad traffic is being interfered with.

The great damage, however, from the storm comes from the menace to the stock interests. The many thousand sheep being fed in the state are in particular danger. Still, as long as the herds are housed, which is the case with most of the large bunches, great damage will not occur. The open range is the place where the greatest loss will be certain.

IOWA IN THE STORM'S GRIP.

Severe Blizzard Rages Over the Greater Part of the State.

Sioux City, Iowa, Nov. 26.—A real old-fashioned blizzard has settled down on this city, and as far as can be learned on most of this part of the state. After threatening all day, the storm broke Thursday evening, and did its best to tie up business on all the farms and railroad lines.

Railroad men on all the lines entering this city were spurred to extreme activity at once, and as the reports came in it was found that the great blizzard was traveling this way at a rate that meant trouble. Trains from the west came into the yards covered with frozen snow and the crews reported that the storm was coming. In the railroad yards snow plows were put in readiness to respond to any call, and extra crews were on hand, equipped for the first fight of the season with the cold and snow.

Heavy Snow in the Northwest.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 26.—Dispatches from points in Minnesota, Montana and the two Dakotas state that a heavy snowstorm, accompanied by a medium wind, but a much lower temperature, prevailed most of Thursday. The reports from stations in the northwest show a rapid drop in the temperature. At Helena the highest point reached was 30 above, while at 8 p. m. it had dropped to 12. The lowest temperature was at Battleford, where at 8 o'clock Thursday night the thermometer registered 10 degrees below zero.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 26.—H. A. Ellsworth and G. R. Duffin of English, Ind., were here Thursday looking for R. H. They received a telephone message from Willits Wednesday saying he was coming here. It was learned, however, that the missing banker has retained Frank H. Hutfeld, his uncle, and Congressman Hemanway of Boonville, to look after his interests in settling up his affairs. Willits' friends say that his relatives will help him, and that matters will be settled dollar for dollar.

Novak May Get a New Trial.

Vinton, Iowa, Nov. 26.—That Frank Novak will be granted a new trial there seems no question. A sensation was created Thursday when the intelligence was revealed by Novak's counsel that they had evidence that one of the jurors stated the day before being called that if he was on the jury Novak would not get off with a light sentence, although he swore when accepted as a juror that he would be guided by the evidence. Novak's friends say that the matter will be investigated, and if any of the jurors committed perjury the grand jury will be convened to make a most searching investigation.

TO MOVE FROM WACO.

Baptist State Headquarters of Texas to Be Taken to Dallas.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 27.—The first serious social and business blow to Waco as a community, resulting from the Brann-Baylor university sensations and the tragedies following them, culminating in the death of the two Harris brothers in a duel with Col. Gerald last Friday, has fallen. The official announcement was made here Thursday that the managers of the state headquarters of the Baptist church for Texas have ordered the headquarters removed from Waco to Dallas. The business of the church will be conducted in this city, dating from Dec. 1.

A rumor is in persistent circulation, not only over the state, but also in Waco, that Baylor university, which is probably the most important Protestant institution of education in Texas, is likewise to be removed from Waco. Denials of this rumor are made by Baptists of prominence in Waco, but there are others who do not hesitate to prophesy that the old and famous seat of learning is doomed to have a new location.

Will Fix the Cuban Tariffs.

Madrid, Nov. 26.—The clause in relation to the tariffs in the government's proposed scheme of autonomy for Cuba provides for the creation of a mixed commission to be composed of Cubans and Spaniards, which is to fix the tariffs. The rates fixed by the commission are to be adopted by the Cuban Chamber of Deputies and then approved by the Spanish cortes before they become effective. Should the mixed commission come to a deadlock the cortes is to be the arbiter of the question at issue.

GIVE THORN'S STORY ON SECOND TRIAL

ANOTHER BIG SENSATION IS PROMISED.

Police Captain O'Brien Will Testify to the Alleged Confession the Defendant Made to Him at the Detective Bureau—Much Interest Shown in the Matter.

New York, Nov. 26.—The trial of Martin Thorn for the killing of William Guldensuppe, is likely to be marked by a greater sensation than the confession of Mrs. Nack. That sensation will be the repetition by Police Captain O'Brien of the detailed confession Thorn is understood to have made to him when he was head of the detective bureau.

There is good ground for the belief that the part of Thorn's confession which Captain O'Brien refused to give when he was in the witness box Wednesday was the prisoner's own account of his movements on June 25, the day on which Guldensuppe is supposed to have been killed in the Woodside cottage.

SERVICE OF OLDEN DAYS.

Interesting Religious Exercises for the Methodist Congress.

The memoranda, it is added, were written or dictated by the commander of the settlement. WEDDINGS AND SOCIAL EVENTS
MARK THANKSGIVING SEASON

HYMEN'S BONDS ARE FORGED FOR MANY.

The Marriage of District Attorney William A. Jackson, and Miss Mary Emaline Stevens, at Christ Church—Tipney-Colden—Conger-Butler—Other Nuptial Events.

THE wedding of Miss Mary Emaline Stevens to William A. Jackson took place in Christ church Wednesday evening. Ohrysanthemums and palms embowered the altar and the air was tremulous with melody as the responses were made.

The church was thronged with friends of the happy couple.

At 8 o'clock the church doors were closed to open a few minutes later as the bridal party appeared. First came the ushers, Charles Noble Gregory of Madison, Beverly L. Warden of Milwaukee; Charles M. Luling of Manitowish and Charles O. Russell, Frank Vankirk and Albert Schaller, of this city. The maid of honor, Miss Zoe Tuthill of Chicago, followed, her beauty emphasized by her gown of American Beauty silk beneath white organdie. American Beauty roses formed her bouquet. She led the way for the bride, whose grace and loveliness were never as strikingly brought forth as in her gown of white satin and lace. She wore white diamond ornaments and carried a bouquet of Smainsonia and lace fern.

Mendelssohn's wedding march with which the party had been ushered in, changed to the march from "Lohengrin" as the bridal procession was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Edward J. Stevens and the officiating clergyman, Rev. A. H. Barrington. Soft music rose and fell as vows were exchanged and the golden token of eternal love was given and received. The triumphal peal of the Lohengrin recessional sounded as the ceremony ended and bride and groom turned to leave the church.

Following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Major and Mrs. Fenton F. Stevens, 106 Park Place, relatives and intimate friends to the number of a hundred or more presenting congratulations and good wishes. Shortly after the wedding supper bride and groom left on their bridal tour, their destination not being announced. After January 1 they will be at home to their friends at 104 Park place. They enter upon married life peculiarly favored. Both are highly regarded, both have the natural endowments that insure a constantly broadening circle of influence and a devoted circle of friends. The bride is the only daughter of Major and Mrs. Stevens, and the groom, who has been twice elected district attorney of Rock county and stands high in legal circles, is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Jackson.

Tipney-Colden.
MISS Anna Colden and John W. Tipney were married Wednesday evening at the home of the groom on Cornelia street, the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. H. Wotton, rector of Trinity church. Although the wedding was a quiet one, it was none the less happy. Only immediate relatives and a few neighbors attended. The bride is a most estimable young woman, and has countless friends, while the groom is a painter who has been employed by Roger & Hutchinson for some years. He served a long term as a member of the Janesville Fire department, and is a man esteemed by all. Many friends will extend well wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Tipney. They will reside at 105 Cornelia street.

PARTY OF THE SINNISSIPPI
GOLF CLUB.

Very Enjoyable Social at the Armory Last Evening—Concert Given by the Merchants—The Light Infantry Dance—Concordia Society Members Make Merry—Some Other Events

EVOTEES of the dance—one hundred and thirty couples—did their best to make the Golf club's second annual party even more successful than was the first. They entered heartily into the spirit of the occasion, and filled the floor so full that a number of ingenious surprises arranged by the committee of managers proved impossible of execution. Johnny Smith never furnished better music, his orchestra having been awed off for the occasion, and he kept tapping ecstatically until well into the morning.

The musicians platform was banked with palms and chrysanthemums, and across the hall two clever posters done by Miss Agnes Shumway showed the frightful effect of "topped" drives and "foozled" approaches. The guests were:

THE NEWS OF FOUR COUNTIES TOLD
IN A FEW SHORT PARAGRAPHS

BELOIT STUDENTS DEFY PRES-IDENT'S ORDERS.

Give Prohibited Banquet at Rockford—Prospect of Serious Complications as Result of Freshman's Insubordinations—The Past Week at Milton—Other Rock County News.

Beloit Wis., Nov. 26.—There is prospect of serious results of the direct insubordination of nearly every member of the freshman class. Contrary to the strict rules recently adopted and the explicit orders of President Eaton, the freshmen departed from Beloit in a special car and Wednesday night gave a banquet in a hotel at Rockford. The action of the freshmen has caused a sensation here and the settlement of the matter may be attended with serious complications.

About a week ago President Eaton met the class and informed them that the faculty had made certain new rules for the prevention of "class scrapes" over banquets. One was that the freshmen should give everybody a week's notice of an intended banquet; and another was that the banquet should be held under the supervision of a chaperone. While these rules were very good and wise for the purpose intended, they proved of course, very distasteful to the students and everybody supposed that the freshmen would give up all thought of having a banquet, inasmuch as a class banquet, without its attended secrecy and final danger at the appointed hour, is no banquet at all.

Fact in the Case.

The facts by which they hope to escape the swift retribution of the faculty are simply these: A recess of two days from Wednesday noon till Friday noon, is allowed to the students this year as usual. During that time they are free to go and come as they please, provided they return on time. The freshmen took advantage of this fact and it remains to be seen whether they will come out all right.

President Eaton was aware of the plans and took particular occasion to forbid their going. The freshmen, however, having disbanded as a class organization and having reduced all their class officers to the ranks, so that nobody should be personally responsible, decided that their right to go where they pleased during the recess was not to be interfered with and almost their whole number stuck to the original plan and went.

The history of class banquets at Beloit has been a checked one. There have been many serious encounters in days past and the faculty have constantly been drawing toward the conclusion that class banquets must be quietly carried on.

A HOT FIRE RAGES AT SHULLS-BURG.

Stores and Stocks of Goods Are Destroyed with Heavy Loss—The Darlington Murder Case—Elopement at Brooklyn, Green County—The News of Old Walworth.

Schullsburg, Wis., November 27.—About 1:30 Wednesday morning a fire broke out in Charles G. Miller's store, a large frame structure and the flames spread from there to a wooden building occupied by O. J. Meloy as a store room and Thos. McGrath also had a paintshop there. This building was totally destroyed. Also two barns in the rear.

The building of Mr. Miller remains standing, but is so badly damaged that it is a complete wreck, and the stock of goods is almost entirely ruined. O. J. Meloy's stock of hardware is also badly damaged. The buildings stood on the north side of Main street in the Pick and Gad block, and had it not been for the water works systemately completed the entire block would probably have been destroyed. The loss is quite large, partially covered by insurance.

Men Are Discharged.

Darlington, Nov. 26.—At the coroner's inquest, held by Wm. Hooper, to enquire into the death of the late John J. Robinson, the testimony brought out showed conclusively that John Grubb and George Dunbar, who have been under arrest for the crime had nothing to do with it, and they were discharged. The inquest will sit from time to time as occasion may require, and assist the officers and citizens committee to the best of their ability in bringing the perpetrators to punishment.

ELOPEMENT STIRS BROOKLYN UP

Sixteen Year Old Girl Outwits Her Parents—Green Co. News.

Brooklyn, Nov. 26.—Brooklyn has a sensation. There are rumors of a case of kidnapping, elopement, etc. but it seems to have been more in the nature of an elopement. One morning, Maud, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Osborn, did not join the family as usual and when search was made of her room it was found that her bed had not been occupied during the night and the young lady's clothing was found to be missing. The girl had been receiving the attentions of George King, but her parents had flatly refused their consent to her marriage to the young man because of her youth. But it seems that Cupid was not to be outdone, as the young couple were married by a Madison clerk man at Verona.

Money Found Through Dream.

Monroe, Nov. 26.—Mrs. Maria Gardner had a singular dream, a sequel of which was the finding of two five dollar bills in an old wallet, long since laid aside as useless. The pocket wallet belonged to Silas Gardner. She dreamed that her husband (who died several years ago) came to her and told her there was some money in his old wallet. She took the shears and cut open the lining of the pocket, and discovered the two five dollar bills as stated.

HEART DISEASE.

SOME FACTS REGARDING THE RAPID INCREASE OF HEART TROUBLES.

Do Not be Alarmed, But Look For the Cause.

Heart troubles, at least among Americans, are certainly increasing and while this may be largely due to the excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs, or poor digestion. Real organic heart disease is incurable, but not one case in a hundred is organic.

The close relation between heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by branches of the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastic.

In another way, also the heart is affected by that form of poor digestion, which causes gas and fermentation from half digested food; there is a feeling of oppression and heaviness in the chest caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and lungs interfering with the their action; hence arises palpitation and short breath.

Poor digestion also poisons the blood makes it thin and watery, which irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible treatment for heart troubles is to improve the digestion and to insure the prompt assimilation of food.

This can best be done by the regular use after meals, of some safe, pleasant, and effective digestive preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found at most drug stores and which contain valuable, harmless digestive elements, in a pleasant, convenient form.

It is safe to say that the regular persistent use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at meal time will cure any form of stomach trouble, except cancer of the stomach.

Little book on stomach troubles mailed free. Address Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

AFTON MAN MARKS BIRTHDAY.

George Simms Hale and Hearty at Ninety-Three—Other Notes.

Afton, Nov. 26.—Last Tuesday was the ninety-third birthday of our venerable townsman, George Simms, he having been born in the state of Connecticut, Nov. 23, 1804. One can begin to comprehend the remarkable span of years covered by the life of Mr. Simms, when it is remembered that at the time of his birth, Thomas Jefferson was president of the United States, and that the national union comprised only seventeen states. The long and eventful reign of England's queen has been subject of much comment and yet Mr. Simms was a young man of thirty-three ere the Princess Victoria had been crowned, while as a lad of eleven summers he had heard of the great Napoleon's defeat at Waterloo. Mr. Simms is still quite active and able to take short walks around the village in the immediate vicinity of his residence, during good weather. The family gathering at the home of G. S. Otis last Monday, marking the fifteenth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Antidel and Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Otis, mention of which was made earlier in the week, was a very enjoyable affair. The guests presented each couple with a handsome water set as a reminder that their crystal wedding was being celebrated. Among those present were Messrs. and Mesdames: O. J. Antidel, S. E. Otis, J. F. Spoon, Janesville; Samuel Goss, Beloit; E. P. Blanchard, Janesville; W. J. Miller, C. H. Antidel, G. H. Palmer, Janesville; G. C. Antidel, W. R. Kilmer, Kankekee, Ill.; C. H. Griffen. Mesdames: Joseph Griffen, N. W. Tripp, J. O. Burt, Chicago; J. L. Kilmer, Janesville; Jane Withington, F. H. Otis, J. G. Kilmer, Janesville; Misses: Hattie N. Otis, Ruby Blanchard. Messrs: L. H. Miller, Milton Kilmer, Neola, Ia.; Conrad Spoon, Elkhart Center; O. J. Kilmer, C. H. Hudson. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eldredge left Wednesday, for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blunk at Hebron, Ill. The Modern Woodmen will meet in regular session Saturday evening. Miss Hyl, Eldredge spent a few days with Beloit friends last week. Chairman A. C. Powers, of Beloit and W. J. Miller, of Rock made an examination of the town line bridge across Rock river last week and said that it needed replanking. Plans are being discussed and formulated by the Ladies' Aid society for a chicken pie supper to be given at the church Friday evening Dec. 10. Particulars later. Miss Virginia A. Scott is visiting relatives and friends near Beloit this week. Friday evening, Dec. 3 is the date of the next Y. P. S. C. E. social and the home of Robert Jackson the social center. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hammel completed twenty years of married life last Monday and he anniversary was marked by a social gathering at Lawton's hall in the evening which was well attended by relatives and friends of the couple.

South Clinton Notes.

South Clinton, Nov. 26.—Edwin Dresser walked out from Beloit Saturday returning on his wheel Monday morning. W. E. Dresser is suffering from a sprained ankle. Snow flew Monday morning. The neighborhood prayer meeting will be held at W. E. Dresser's this week. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Giles are suffering with severe colds. Elmer Sampson while feeding the corn shredder on the Matison farm near Bergen had his hand taken off at the wrist on Monday. Miss Hattie Bellinger spent a week here not long ago. Mr. and Mrs. Jacket went to Chicago Saturday. Work on the road at Larson's hill is suspended for awhile because of the freeze Monday night and the workmen had to return to their homes Tuesday morning. Mrs. Charles Dresser drove to Janesville Friday and Mrs. Benedict visited Beloit the same day.

Death Saddens South Turtle.

South Turtle, Nov. 26.—The death of Mrs. Harry Egery has cast a gloom over the entire community. She was out on Sunday, to the funeral of Mr. Backus's child, and the following Sunday she laid in her coffin in her girlhood home in Beloit, whither she had been taken the day before, from her husband's farm, east of town. She was but twenty-eight years old, and leaves a husband and two children, besides a host of friends. Mr. Hall has been burning his hogs, that have died of cholera. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hammond attended the funeral of Lewis Simon's youngest child, in Clinton, Tuesday. The school in the Murray district, held appropriate Thanksgiving services, Wednesday.

Justin Nelson.

South Clinton, Nov. 26.—The death of Justin Nelson, the aged father of our esteemed townsman, T. F. Nelson, of South Clinton, removes another of Rock County's old settlers. Mr. Nelson came here from Norway in 1839. He died at the age of ninety-one. He was remarkably active for one of his years up to within less than a week of his death. When ninety years old he walked to Clinton two and one-half miles and returned. It was no uncommon thing to see him with his fork in the hay field. He leaves an aged wife who has been very sick for some time; also two sons and two daughters.

F. BURT CARR LEASES HOTEL

Janesville Man Will Run the New Edgerton Hostelry.

F. Burt Carr, clerk of the Hotel Myers, has leased the new Carlton hotel at Edgerton, and will open the house with a ball and supper on December 20. The hotel is a new one built of cream colored brick with cut stone trimmings. The floors down stairs are all of hard wood, and the rooms are finished in quarter sawed oak. The rooms upstairs are finished in Georgia pine, and the floors are covered with Brussels carpet throughout. The furnishings are all brand new. The building was finished but a few days ago. It is owned by the Hausmann Brewing company of Madison.

In securing Mr. Carr as landlord the owners of this handsome new hotel are fortunate. Ten years experience in the hotel business here, in Chicago, and in the west, have made Mr. Carr the master of all details. Mr. Carr will leave for Edgerton about Dec. 10.

LEAF CROP AND BANK FAILURE ARE THE THEMES AT EDGERTON

LEAF LACKS UNIFORMITY THIS SEASON

Hard To Find Lots Without "Tail Ends," the Buyers Say—Heavy Export Trade Will Be the Rule—Rush Will Not Be Seen Again—The Local Market.

Really the first opportunity to examine into the merits of the '97 crop has been afforded since the recent easing weather during which samples were gathered from all the growing sections. Dealers express some disappointment regarding the samples they have secured, due largely to the cure. While most of the early tobacco is reasonably thin and sprandy and is uniformly of light colors, the Edgerton Reporter says, the later harvested portions of the crop is thicker, off in color and white-fleeced to a considerable extent. The thickness of the leaf would not be objectionable provided it had body enough to answer the demands of the trade for "shorts," which class of goods the market is most in need of. It is the lack of uniformness in the crop that is the subject of the most criticism. The difficulty is to find crops without "tail ends" as the term goes. There is some beautiful tobacco of the '97 growth, as fine as ever produced in the state, but that the average will hardly rank with the '96 can hardly be doubted. The impression among dealers is that quite a portion of the crop will be handled for export trade, though the choice selections will answer every requirement of the binder market. Buying however must be attended with a thorough inspection and cannot safely be made with such a rush as was witnessed in the movement a year ago.

Trade at Edgerton.
The general condition of dulness still envelops the tobacco markets of the state. At no place the trade in cured leaf of sufficient magnitude to appear entirely satisfactory. The only transaction from first hands deserving of notice is the sale of 100 cases '96 by Corcoran Bros. at 8 and 6 cents and 40 cents by J. hn Byland at 10 and 6 cents to Phil Bcnn. The sale of two 25 cent lots by C. L. Culton and Pomeroy & Pelton and 50 cases by Geo. Rymill comprise the transactions of the week that have reached us.

While there is no buying of the new crop yet to speak of nor any general movement in that direction, there is nibbling going on in various sections. Janesville and Brodhead buyers are making a few straggling contracts, two of which have reached us, that of Richard Ryan, 8 acres at 6 and 1c and J. Lezow, 5 acres at 5 and 13 in the bundle.

The shipment out of storage reach a total of 14 car loads or about 625 cases to all points for the week from this station. Since last report 600 cases of cigar leaf were exported from New York.

Little Trading Is Being Done in Tobacco
The Leaf says the local market conditions continue of a rather quiet nature, there being but little done in any line. Among the transactions reported are 40 cases '92 and 50 cases '96 sold by J. L. & M. F. Greene; 90 cases of old sold by Joseph Grundy; 100 cases of old, sold by F. S. Baines and a few small lots sold by S. B. Heddies.

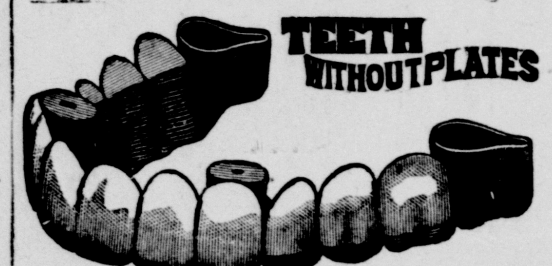

Several buyers have been riding from this market but they have made no purchases of '97 that we have learned of. Many of them are much disappointed at the colors of the hanging leaf. They claim that there is some white-vein, mottled colors and thick leaf and they will not buy until a thorough examination can be made. Then some buying will be done. We understand that a few crops of '97 have been contracted for near Albany and Stoughton, but cannot learn the prices paid. Generally speaking everything is very quiet.

THE REPORTER TALKS ABOUT THE LAWYERS.

Speaks of the "Disinterestedness" of Attorneys Who Are "Persistently Trying To Insinuate Themselves Into the Bank Failure"—Circular Letter Sent to Depositors Is Copied

The Edgerton Reporter says: "The disinterestedness of certain attorneys who are persistently trying to insinuate themselves into the bank failure may be seen from the following letter that is being sent to many of the large depositors. Omitting address and signature it reads:
"DEAR SIR:—Having been retained by Mr. Frank J. Hartzheim, of the city of Edgerton, to collect his claim against the Bank of Edgerton, we have begun an action in behalf of Mr. Hartzheim and all other creditors of the bank who may choose to come in with us and become parties to such action against the officers and directors of the bank.

"We feel confident of success and if you desire, we will take your claim for collection upon the following terms: You to pay us an account equal to five per cent of the face of your claim against the bank for our disbursements and expenses and if there shall be paid or collected on your claim forty per cent or more of its face, to pay us ten per cent of the face in addition.

"If you wish us to act for you please send your bank book or certificates of deposit or other evidence of your claim and we will immediately forward to you a written receipt and an agreement as to terms for for you to sign.

Yours very truly,
Makes a Suggestion.

"If the depositors stop to figure out just what this bold proposition means they would at once see what a large cut must come out of any dividend made in the bank settlement, solely to the benefit of the lawyers' the Reporter continues. "For instance if your claim is $1000, $50 will go to the attorneys in any event if you surrender your claim into their hands. But if the bank pays 40 per cent, either through the receiver or by the efforts of the lawyers in collection of the claim, or by both, then their fees will be $100 more, making a picking of $150 for securing at least $400 on the claim, of which amount the depositor gets $250. There can scarcely be any doubt but the receiver will be able to pay above 40 per cent on claims against the bank so the depositors could be stuck for 15 per cent of their claims if these attorneys once get them into their possession whether a dollar is collected through their efforts or not. It is worth while for the depositors to scratch their heads over this proposition for a while before they drop into the trap."

THE ROLL OF DEATH
MAKES A LONG LIST

A. LEWIS, A FORMER PIONEER, NO MORE.

Man Who Was Identified with Rock County Business Interests in an Early Day, Answers the Final Call at Chicago—The Demise of Mrs. Wickem—Mortuary Mention.

The remains of E. B. Lewis were brought to this city from Chicago on the noon train today and were taken directly to Oak Hill. There they were laid beside his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Lewis.

Mr. Lewis was an uncle of S. R. and F. F. Lewis and Miss Emma Corwin, of this city. He was the last of three brothers who came to Rock county with their father, A. F. Lewis, in the '30's and settled in Turtleville.

A. F. Lewis built a saw mill and gristmill in Turtle which for a long time was the only one in this section of the country. Many Rock county pioneers living near Janesville remember the time when they were forced to go to Turtle with their grist.

E. B. Lewis crossed the plains in '49 with his father and Hon. Hiram Merrill of this city. He was in the grocery business in Beloit for many years, being associated with Oliver Stiles during a part of this time. He sold out and went into the lumber business in Delavan and afterward moved to Minnesota where he was prominent in business for a number of years.

During the last two years he has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Clarence Olmstead, Chicago.

The remains were accompanied from Chicago by Mrs. E. B. Lewis, and her two daughters, Mrs. Olmstead of Chicago and Mrs. Abbott of Minneapolis.

Another daughter, Mrs. E. J. Adams, of Beloit, with her husband, met them here. There were no services in this city, the funeral having been held in Chicago yesterday. Those who bore the body to the grave were: F. F. Lewis, S. R. Lewis, E. J. Adams and Oliver Stiles.

Leonard Lakin

Leonard Lakin, one of the old time merchants of Janesville died in St. Paul November 24 and was buried in Rose Hill cemetery, Chicago, today. A letter announcing his death was received by Silas Hayner this morning.

He died of cerebral hemorrhage, being attacked while on a street car in Minneapolis November 6. He was able to give the name of a friend and was taken at once to a hospital where every provision was made for his comfort. His wife and daughter were with him during the last hours.

Mr. Lakin was a member of the firm of Williston & Lakin who had a grocery on South Main street in 1850. When he went out of business here he went to Bodhead and later moved to Fort Atkinson which has been his home for a number of years, although his duties as a commercial traveler kept him on the road most of the time.

Miss Clara Sailer

Miss Clara L. Sailer, the fourteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Sailer died last night at 1:35 o'clock at her home, 108 Milton avenue. She has been ill during the past three weeks with pneumonia and all that medical skill could do failed to relieve her suffering. The deceased was a bright and attractive girl and was an earnest member of the Court Street M. E. Church Sunday school. To Mr. and Mrs. Sailer the blow is a hard one, it being but a few months since they lost their oldest son. The funeral will be held from the residence at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow and from the Court Street Sunday school rooms at 2 o'clock, the interment to be in Oak Hill.

Daniel Griffin

IT WAS A COLD DAY FOR THIS TOWN
AS TO ATHLETICS AND WEATHER

JANESVILLE FOOTBALL PLAYERS ARE DEFEATED.

Beloit Men Whitewashed Them at the Line City, while the Beloit Rifles Indoor Team Defeated the Light Infantry Nine—Colts Play Successfully at Athletic Park.

In the language of the poet, Beloit "didn't do a thing" to Janesville yesterday.

Line City football players whitewashed Janesville players and Line City indoor base ball experts tied yard knots in the Light Infantry Y. M. C. A. team.

Although defeated by a score of 10 to 0 the local high school eleven returned from Beloit last evening jubilant. They went to Beloit to meet a picked team—and they did. They battled on Keep Athletic field yesterday afternoon with an eleven that would average 180 pounds in weight while several of the team were former members of the first college eleven. That is the reason why the local team feel so happy over the result of the score.

Although the local team do not style themselves the High school eleven they were for the most part members of that team. At 3 o'clock the game was called and probably 200 people were present. The afternoon was misty and the grounds were muddy and slippery to play on. Janesville won the toss and took their goal leaving Beloit the kick off. Twenty minute halves were played. Beloit on the kick off put the ball in close touch with Janesville's goal where they managed to keep it by the hardest kind of work. Score 10 to 0 in Beloit's favor.

The Second Half

In the second half the real battle was waged. Beloit, after getting the call, sent Strothers around the end only to be downed by a Janesville lad. Cox, a 200 pound ex-college player, made repeated gains through the line but was never for once in close touch with Janesville's goal during the last half.

Pitcher made several good tackles while Flemingway and Nott made repeated good gains.

Buell and Millmore lost no time in tackling their opponents whenever the opportunity presented itself while Casford had a 200 pound man to look after throughout the game.

A quarter-back trick that originated in the brain of the local team fooled the Beloit boys and was the means of bringing forth loud applause.

The Beloit referee and timekeeper gave the best of satisfaction and anything their work favored the Janesville boys.

The teams lined up as follows:

JANESVILLE
Strothers.....Hemingway
Cox.....Nott
Thompson.....Pitcher
Kingley.....Jerg
Belli.....Murwin
Akeley.....Smith
Bittel.....Buell
Munn.....Mathews
Mills.....Casford
Cox.....McDonald
Kenzie.....Millmore
Substitutes for Janesville were Scott, Wallace and Bemis.

Indoor Ball Game

The Line City Rifles' indoor base ball team played the local Y. M. C. A. team in this city last evening. The score was 31 to 8 in favor of Beloit. The Line City team played a good all around game and proved themselves superior to the local team in every point of the game. At 8 o'clock umpire Boyd Nott called the game to order with the home team to bat. In the first inning the Y. M. C. A. boys made one run while the Beloit team was kept busy running the bases, making fourteen runs in this inning. From that time on the local team seem to have lost all nerve and the Beloit boys played all around them. Palmer twirled the sphere from the home team and his work in the box was the feature of the game. Rogers was unable to hold the ball.

Football at Athletic Park

At Athletic Park yesterday afternoon two local foot ball teams composed of sixteen year old players came together. The teams were "The Colts" and "The West Ends." The score was 15 to 4 in favor of the Colts. An audience numbering just sixteen sat throughout the game showing great enthusiasm in spite of the disagreeable weather.

THE TRAINS WERE LATE THIS MORNING.

Snow, Sleet and Rain Interfered, and Fast Time Was Out of the Question—Heavy Storm Raged North of This City—Light Snowfall Opens Season

Mr. Boreas opened the winter weather season last night, with snow sleet rain, and plenty of cold air.

As a consequence, trains were considerably delayed this morning. The sleet and snow made fast time impossible, as the wheels slipped on the frost coated rails. The "place" morning papers did not get here until nearly noon.

North of the city the storm was much more severe, and several trains were delayed because of having to make connections with the trains coming from the storm district. Janesville seems to have received only the fog end of the storm.

Telephone and telegraph wires were broken in some instances by the weight of the sleet but no extensive damage was done.

Rain fell during the early part of the evening but turned to snow early this morning. The fall was not heavy. The thermometer went down to twelve above zero which was nearly as low a point as has been reached this year.

COLD CURE

VARIOUS NOTES.

Suggestions For Weddings—The Head and Hair.

Large clusters of orange flowers are no longer worn to fasten the bridal veil to the hair. A very small coronet of blossoms and buds mingled, only as wide as one flower, is considered quite sufficient. White gloves of kid, not suede, are worn, and white silk stockings, the shoes of kid or satin having orange blossom buds instead of buckles.

It is not now fashionable for the bride to carry in her hand a big bouquet of orange flowers. The bridal bouquet is carefully preserved as a souvenir, a few sprays from it being given to the bride's most intimate friends as keepsakes which will bring good fortune to the possessor.

Women who are subject to neuralgia and colds should be careful about wetting the head or hair. Instead of washing the latter with water, it may be cleaned by thickly sprinkling it with finely powdered dry starch, which must be well shaken down among the roots. It is then brushed out of the hair with a rather stiff brush, no traces being allowed to remain.

When the hair comes out in large quantities, it is an indication that some sort of tonic treatment is required for the scalp. A saturated solution of salt in rum usually has a most beneficial effect, arresting the fall of the hair and stimulating it to new growth. The salt and rum should be thoroughly rubbed in.

The illustration given today shows a costume of dark red cloth. The skirt is ornamented at the sides with inlet fans of dark red velvet, and three bands of fur are arranged obliquely below the hips. The blouse bodice of red cloth has a plaited yoke of red velvet traversed by bands of fur and opens over a plastron of red velvet. The sleeves of cloth are puffed at the shoulder, a lengthwise plaiting of velvet extending from the puff to the elbows. The plaiting is encircled by three bands of fur. The valois collar of fur is fastened by a bow of black satin and a gold buckle. The belt is of yellow leather.

The Origin of Thanksgiving.

The first recorded instance of anything in the nature of thanksgiving in the history of our country is the following entry in an old Bible belonging to one of the first pilgrims: "Some born to Susanna

White, December 19th, 1620, at six o'clock morning. Next day we meet for prayer and thanksgiving." This, however, is not generally accepted as the first observance of that nature, since it hardly partook of the character of a general thanksgiving. But 15 months after the pilgrims sailed from Holland they held a harvest festival which lasted a week. This is generally spoken of as the first Thanksgiving in New England, but it was not a day set apart by the governor, nor was it attended by any religious observance.

A few years later precisely the same thing occurred. Thereupon July 30, 1623, was appointed as a day of thanksgiving, and before the second sunset a relief ship arrived. Fast days and thanksgiving days came at irregular intervals for a number of years, the latter following some marked event of a beneficent nature, such as getting rid of Anne Hutchinson, whose preaching caused such a turmoil in New England, for the termination of King Philip's war and the close of the Revolution and the triumph of independence in America. Then came the practice of the governor of each state naming a day for general thanksgiving. These at first were not coincident, but the beautiful custom has prevailed for a considerable time, and doubtless will prevail for ages to come, of the president appointing such a day, generally the last Thursday in November, to which the governor of each state assents by naming the same day. Thus there is one day each year when the 45 states and the territories from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from British America to the Gulf return thanks to God for his manifold blessings and mercies.

Even More Exciting.

Miss Boston—How dull and unexciting the Pilgrim Fathers must have found Thanksgiving without football. There was no kicking the pigskin then. Wagley—That's true, but they got their excitement licking the redskin.

Murder on the Increase in New York! State Statistics Prove This.

The superintendent of state prisons has compiled statistics showing that the number of executions in the state of New York has greatly increased since the electrocution law took effect in 1890. Since that time forty executions have taken place, while from the creation of the state until 1890 there were but 230 hangings. This is an increase of more than 200 per cent in a year. Per contra, however, since the discovery of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, there has been an immense increase in the number of dyspepsias whose stomachs have been set right and made to act like clockwork by that useful remedy. It promotes secretion of the gastric juices, and begets a wholesome appetite for the food which it enables the stomach to digest. Malaria (fever, constipation, liver complaint, kidney and bladder trouble, nervousness and rheumatism are prevented and remedied by this popular medicinal agent. Taken before retiring it promotes sound refreshing sleep.

OUTSIDE AND INSIDE WEATHER.

[A ditty for springtime or any other time of year.]

In the morning when our eyes pop open early,
And we creep and peep to watch the sun arise,
If he's hiding and a cloudy sky, a-glowing,
grim and surly,
Has no streaming golden beaming for our eyes,
Why, then, lightly as a feather
Must our spirits dance together
And our faces must be sunny all day long.
For as fresh as highland heather
We can make the inside weather
When the outside seems to be so very wrong.

But if with the outdoor sunshine all the happy
birds are singing,
And the trees are budding in the glad, warm,
light,
And the arbutus is peeping from its brown
leaves' tender keeping,
And the face of day is fresh and sweet and bright,
Why, then, why not all together
Shake our faces match the weather—
Fresh and sweet and bright and sunny all day long?
For as fragrant as the heather
Is the charming outside weather,
And the inside cannot be so very wrong.
—Jessie Macmillan Anderson in St. Nicholas.

WICKED JACK.

"I don't know—I almost think—I should like you better—if I possibly could like you better, Jack, dear—if—if—you were just a little—ever such a tiny bit—wicked."

I lifted my eyebrows in mild astonishment. I had an idea that I was sufficiently wicked, not desperately or viciously wicked, you know, but just about wicked enough.

"Would you like me to poison pussy, or steal Aunt Jane's knitting, or put gunpowder in the governor's pipe, or smash the mater's—no, 'pon my word, Cis, I won't do anything to the dear little mater."

"Don't be so absurd," said she severely. ("She" with a big S, if you please.)

"You don't look pretty when you make faces, Cis."

"You said yesterday that I couldn't help looking pretty."

We had only been engaged three days then.

"Oh, Jack!"

There were explanations here which do not affect the argument.

"I didn't mean that sort of wickedness," said she.

"Isn't kissing wicked?"

"Of course not, when people are engaged. Don't, Jack."

"Well, what's the particular crime you admire, Cis?" I inquired cheerfully. "I dare say I've committed it in the course of a long and evil life."

"You know I don't mean real wickedness that is wickedness. I'm quite sure that you wouldn't ever—quite, quite sure, dear."

I wasn't so sure, but I was clear enough that I shouldn't tell her of it.

"I only mean little wickednesses—not wickednesses really, only—er—you know what I mean."

"You are always strikingly lucid," I observed politely.

"You are always teasing me."

"Is that wickedness which is or which isn't?"

"I'm not going to discuss frivolities, sir. You know what I mean."

"I'm hanged if I do!"

"Well, I mean—people say—that a man ought not to be—that is—I know what I mean, but I can't express it. And I won't be laughed at, Jack."

"You are being laughed at, Cis."

"But I don't like it, please."

"Well, you mean that it doesn't seem mainly for a man to be too good and proper. Is that it, Cis?"

"Of course it is."

"Upon my word I'm not."

"Ah," said she triumphantly, setting herself magisterially in the corner of the large armchair (she doesn't nearly fill it), "what have you done? I shall expect you to tell me all."

She almost looked as if she expected it, too, which was absurd. So I determined to make a careful selection, but there was such an embarrassment of riches! Of course I couldn't tell her of the wickednesses which were, and wickednesses which weren't I found somewhat difficult to define.

"Well"—I began hesitatingly.

"Go on, sir—the truth."

"When I was a boy"

"Oh, that doesn't matter. I suppose you've done something wrong since then."

"Er—I've sometimes had a bet on a horse race or a cricket or football match."

"How much—£5?"

"Well—er—not more. You see, I'm not really a betting man."

If I'd told her of that coup on Yellow Dragon, it might have got round to the governor, you see.

"Oh, well, that isn't very much. What else?"

"Sometimes when I was at Oxford I had quite enough to drink."

"Oh, Jack! But you didn't ever get quite—not really—so that you could not?"

"Drunk? Oh, dear, no! That would have shown a great weakness of character."

It wasn't worth while to mention that night when the other men put me in bed the wrong end, with my boots on the pillow. I was only overcome with the smoke and excitement, you know.

"There's a good boy! I'm glad," she said, just touching my hand with hers.

"Anyhow I'm almost a teetotaler now. Well, that's nearly all."

"Now, Jack!"

"Except that I might have said a swear word or so now and then. Football and billiards are very trying, you know."

If she'd heard me talk to that caddy on boat race day!

"Um!"

"Isn't that wicked enough?"

"Ye-es, but men all do it. Even dad when he dropped the big hammer on his foot the other day said"—

"What?"

"Never mind. Perhaps it was 'Dear me!'"

"Oh, that's how I always swear."

"You tell awful—untruths."

"Yes, that's my form of wickedness."

I heaved a sigh of relief that she had settled the question.

"But haven't you, Jack—haven't you ever flirted? That's what I mean."

I thought so.

"Good gracious, yes!"

"Since you know me? Now, tell me. I won't be cross; really I won't."

"But I've known you ever since you were a baby, more or less. You were a tiresome youngster, Cis, 'pon my honor you were."

"I mean since you—you—liked me."

"I can't remember when I didn't."

"Dear old Jack! Is that really true?"

"True as gospel, little one."

As a matter of fact it was.

"Now I've confessed enough," I observed.

"No, you haven't. There's something I want to know."

I twiddled my mustache uneasily. I thought there was.

"Did you flirt with Polly Graham last Christmas?"

I knew that was coming.

"Oh—er—not exactly."

"Now, Jack!"

"Oh, well, nothing to speak of."

"Not on boxing day?"

"I don't remember."

"When you walked home from skating with her?"

"You were so taken up with that fool Jackson."

"You didn't ask me to skate with you."

"You always had half a dozen fellows round you."

"I couldn't help it." I gnawed my mustache and glared.

"Jack! Don't be disagreeable. I wanted you to ask me."

Here, again, there was an irrelevant interval.

"Now about Polly Graham?" she coaxed. "Please tell me. I won't be cross. And—and—I do want to know."

"Perhaps I did flirt a little."

"You kissed her?"

"Er—no." It's all very well to talk, but a fellow can't help looking guilty.

"That's not true."

"Oh, well, I—er—didn't want to."

"Nonsense! Why did you do it?"

"I haven't said I did."

"I know you did."

"Oh, I did, then!"

"You are unkind—horrid. I hate you. I won't be engaged to you, and I'll never speak to you again!"

"Why, Cis, you promised."

"I don't care."

"But I do, very much."

"I'm glad—glad—glad. Now you'll be sorry. And I—don't care. Don't touch me! I—don't—care—a—bit."

To prove her indifference she began to cry, so I picked her right up in my arms.

"It was only one, Cis."

"Is that true?"

"Absolutely." Of course it wasn't.

"And you never will again?"

"Never." Of course I didn't mean forfeits or anything of that sort.

"And don't want to?"

"Not a bit."

"Then I think—I will be—engaged to you still—if you want me."

"If, little Cis!"

Here there was a further irrelevant interval, after which she actually laughed.

"I don't want you to be wicked, really, Jack."

"No, dear."

"And I don't mean to talk about it any more."

Neither do I—St. Paul's.

New Mexico Shepherd Boys.

When going up the valley of the Rio Grande in New Mexico, my attention was drawn to the flocks of sheep and goats and their pastures, or shepherd boys. These little shepherds wore neither hats nor shoes. Their only garment was a tunic, reaching a little below the knee and confined by a girdle, from which depended a small pouch or scrip. A quiver, with bow and arrows, hung athwart the shoulders, and the right hand held a sling. Presently a stone from the scrip was hurled forward toward the right or left to make the flock swerve to the left or right. It was impossible not to recognize little "David, the son of Jesse," and one might have almost expected to behold Goliath, the Philistine, coming to defy the children of Israel.

The portraiture of the scene described in the book of Samuel was too exact to be ascribed to accident, and for the first time it occurred to me that David bore a sing, not for the purpose of slaying bears or lions—or even Philistines—but to guide and control the flock, and that these little shepherds of a kindred race, dwelling in a country not unlike the pastoral regions of Judea, very naturally continued to re-enact the scenes described in sacred history.—Catholic World.

The Natural Bridge of Today.

The Natural Bridge is 215 feet in height, 100 feet in width, with a span of 90 feet. Under the arch might be placed the Washington monument at Baltimore. Cedar creek, the stream over which it stretches its arch, is clear as crystal. No photograph or painting can impress the mind with its immensity or grandeur or geometrical proportions or the rich coloring or the picturesque surroundings. One must feast his eyes upon the mighty arch to realize its vastness. Under the arch are the outlines of an American eagle, formed by moss and lichens. Upon one side is where George Washington, when a surveyor for Lord Fairfax, 150 years ago, carved his name in the rock. The ravages of time and exposure to the elements have nearly obliterated the name, but some of the letters are quite distinct. In the years gone by Henry Clay, Daniel Webster and many prominent statesmen, before railroads were built, spent days of inconvenient travel to look upon this, one of the wonders of the world. Now the iron horse speeds over its steel roadway, and in a few hours one can reach this destination without fatigue.—Baltimore Sun.

She looked trustfully into his eyes and smiled.

"Papa says I shall never have one cent of his money if I marry you," she said, "but I am glad of that. I prefer to owe everything to my husband."

"But you forget," he returned, nervously, "that that will make it necessary for your husband to owe everything, too."—Chicago Post.

MRS. CURTIS, NEW YORK,

Tells Her Experience With Ovaritis.

A dull, throbbing pain, accompanied by a sense of tenderness and heat low down in the side, with an occasional shooting pain, indicates inflammation. On examination it will be found that the region of pain shows some swelling. This is the first stage of ovaritis, inflammation of the ovary. If the roof of your house leaks, my sister, you have it fixed at once; why not pay the same respect to your own body?

Do you live miles away from a doctor? Then that is all the more reason why you should attend to yourself at once, or you will soon be on the flat of your back.

You need not, you ought not to let yourself go, when one of your own sex holds out the helping hand to you, and will advise you without money and without price. Write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and tell her all your symptoms. Her experience in treating female ills is greater than any other living person. Following is proof of what we say:

"For nine years I suffered with female weakness in its worst form. I was in bed nearly a year with congestion of the ovaries. I also suffered with falling of the womb, was very weak, tired all the time, had such headaches as to make me almost wild. Was also troubled with leucorrhoea, and was bloated so badly that some thought I had dropsy. I have taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and several of her Blood Purifier, and am completely cured. It is a wonder to all that I got well. I shall always owe Mrs. Pinkham a debt of gratitude for her kindness. I would advise all who suffer to take her medicine."—Mrs. ANNIE CURTIS, Ticonderoga, N. Y.

The finest,
most delicate things you have you needn't be afraid to wash with Pearlina. The fact that a thing is delicate and easily torn is the very reason why you should take Pearlina to it. Nothing else can get it clean with so little rubbing and wrenching.

If you observe carefully, you'll notice that the women who are the most particular about their washing and their housekeeping and their housework are the ones who are the most enthusiastic about Pearlina.

Look Out Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as" Pearlina. IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled; if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest —send it back. 538 JAMES PYLE, New York.

A Favorite Remark - -

Of young men of limited means: If I could afford it, I'd always go to a tailor. Now a suit of clothes I make will last twice as long, and fit twice as good, as a ready made, and more than pays for itself in the satisfaction it brings. As for price: Put ours and the ready-made side by side, and it will be hard to tell them apart.
